ARLINGTON OAKS, Part II

City tries to find winning package to pay for sewer lines

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

(Editor's Note: Following is the conclusion of a two-part article on the Arlington Oaks subdivision's sewage issue. Part one was published last week.)

Although Yolo County's environmental health officer has stated that their 215-home subdivision is exposed to "health hazards" from their aging and crowded septic systems, residents of Arlington Oaks (near Jefferson Blvd. and Devon Rd.) last year narrowly defeated a city-sponsored plan to put them onto the city's sewage system.

Meanwhile, it appears that the subdivision will have to weather at least two more winters in which high groundwater is potentially threatened by leaky systems. Sewage-related bacteria could percolate to the surface, or into leaky drinking water lines.

A new plan is in the works – although it, too, is subject to a vote by residents. The plan uses outside funding to provide deferred loans to some of the lowest-income residents of Arlington Oaks, enabling all of the subdivision to switch to city sewer treatment at once. For these customers, the costs of hooking up to the system won't come due until their homes change hands.

With a possible health risk involved, why doesn't the city itself simply foot the bill and build the sewer connections?

"If the city pays for it," said Mark Montemayor, West Sacramento's mayor, "it means the taxpayers of the City of West Sacramento would pay for sewage in Arlington Oaks. New residents of Bridgeway Island, for example, already pay impact fees for sewage. Now they're going to be paying two times. And what about the residents of the 'state street' area, or Broderick and Bryte? Are they going to pay for Arlington Oaks, too?"

The city's redevelopment agency, which spends millions of tax dollars on improvements, can't help, either. Arlington Oaks isn't inside the redevelopment agency's boundaries.

The West Sacramento City Council has allocated nearly $300,000 from a revolving loan fund to help with the new project. It has also allocated $30,000 to pay for engineering and environmental documentation costs to prepare applications for outside funding.

With a possible State Water Resources Quality Control Board revolving loan and a potential Community Development Block Grant loan, the development could get assistance on both the sewer mains and private hookups for the sewer project. The project could go "out to bid" late next year, said Tina Gontarski of the city's Dept. of Grants & Community Investment.

Don't look to the deep pockets of the city's redevelopment agency for help: The agency's boundaries were drawn around the outside of the Arlington Oaks subdivision.

"The total cost of the project is around $2.3 - $2.6 million," said Gontarski. "The costs includes the cost of the main, the work done on private property, abandonment of the septic tanks, pumping, and hookup fees."

Cost per home works out to an estimated $10,604. Residents would pay from zero to $73 per month on loan payments for 20 years to repay financing – depending on their income level. The lowest income residents would not have to repay the low-interest loans until their homes are sold or change hands. Actual monthly sewer service would cost an additional $21.18 per month.

For Arlington Oaks resident Jimmy Manerchia, who is planning a run for city council, completing the project by 2003 just isn't fast enough.

"Here it is 15 months later (after the last vote) and the engineering still hasn't been done yet," said Manerchia. "If they'd given it an honest effort, this thing would be done."

He expressly does not hold Gontarski responsible for the pace of the project, but believes the project should be higher on the city's to-do list.

Gontarski points at the inch-thick set of instructions for the state loan alone, and mentions the complexity of coordinating different funding sources into a package that residents will approve.

"We really want to see this project go forward," she said. "It takes a tremendous amount of work to get all the sources of funding together, and to put together a project with this level of detail."

ROAR returns

The 'Whymsycle Surrey Amphicar" from River City High School won the Palamidessi Award at last year's ROAR

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

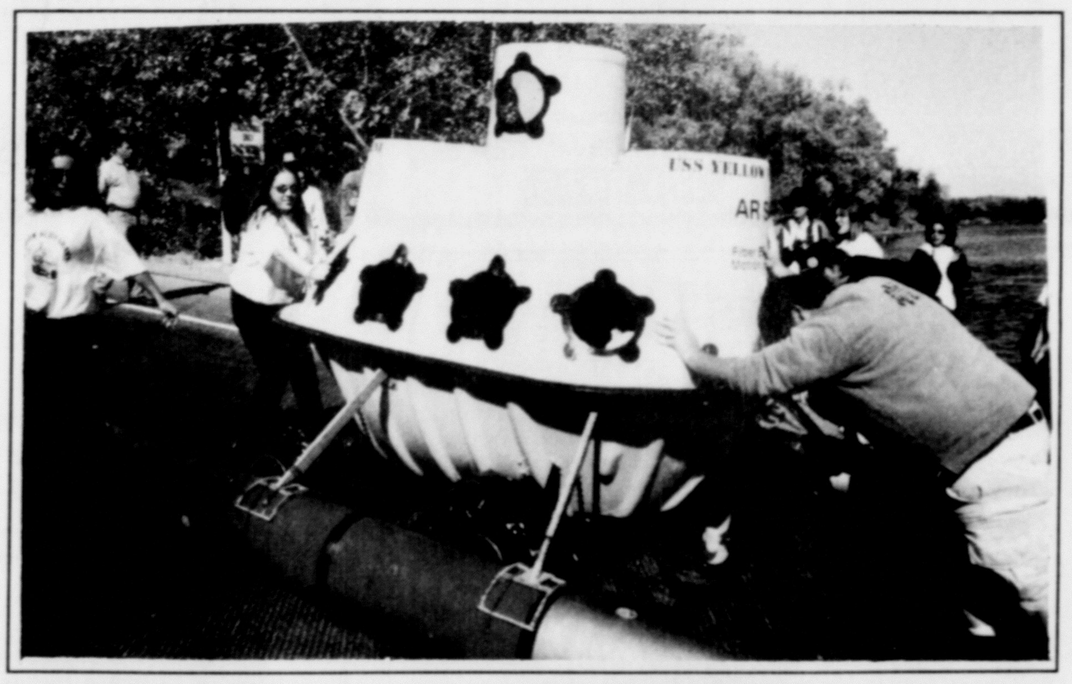
There's still time.

You, too, can build a "kinetic sculpture" designed to race over pavement, water and mud, and enter it in the third annual "River Otter Amphibious Race" ("ROAR") on Saturday, Aug. 11.

It's a race in which the only rule is that there are no rules, and the official entries from the cities of Sacramento and West Sacramento can be counted on to cheerfully and shamelessly cheat during the race in their quest for the Mayor's Cup. Past shenanigans include West Sacramento's former mayor, Christopher Cabaldon, wearing a "SECURITY" T-shirt and using a powerboat to pull over Sacramento's race entry for a bogus "safety inspection."

This year's event also features a series of powerboat races.

"It's going to be a fun-filled day," said Les Bowman of the West Sacramento Redevelopment Agency. "We're going to start with the ROAR race at Crocker Park, through Old Sacramento and Discovery Park. They'll enter the Sacramento River and come out on the Broderick Boat Ramp. We have permission this year to use the property just north of the boat ramp, so there'll be an 'off-road' element – we'll even take them through a 'jungle,' and possibly have a mudhole as well."



The 'USS Yellow Submarine,sponsored by A&R Signs, was co-winner of the 'most innovative' competitor in last year's race. (Photos courtesy of Art Schroeder, City of W. Sac.)

Contestants and their contraptions will finish at West Sacramento's River Walk, near the ziggurat building that used to house the Money Store.

Other events are planned for the day as well, said Bowman.

"At 12:30, there will be a helicopter rescue demonstration," he said. "They're going to pluck somebody out of the river between the Tower and I St. bridges. And our parks and community services department will have some activities, including a bike rodeo, possibly an arts and crafts fair, and some music at the Grand Staircase."

The "cigarette boat" races will begin at 2 p.m. between the Tower and I St. bridges.

The "kinetic sculptures" are built by individuals, clubs, businesses and other organizations. Entry fees are $50 – and although entries were due July 16, late entries may still be possible. Call Stephen Leach at 552-6808, ext. 172.

Guidelines on building a vehicle for the race (including such helpful information as how much foam it takes to keep 60 pounds of vessel and crew afloat) are available.

The day's events are sponsored by Waterfront Area Visitor & Entertainment Services, which is an affiliate of the West Sacramento Chamber of Commerce and the Sacramento Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce.

City housing commission likes plans for new apartments, housing

The West Sacramento Housing Advisory Commission on July 2 recommended city approval of two development projects that may find themselves subjected to close scrutiny.

By a unanimous vote, the commission gave a thumbs up on "Capitol Place Apartments," a 9.68-acre project on the north side of Sacramento Ave. owned by the G.W. Williams Co., which hopes to re-zone the land to make way for a 192-unit apartment complex. Commissioner Patricia Camarillo abstained from voting.

The "Capitol Place" proposal will go to the city planning commission tomorrow night, at a meeting beginning at 6 p.m. at 1350 Halyard Dr.

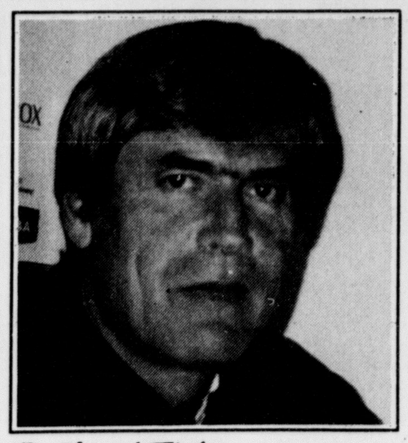
By a unanimous vote with no abstentions, the commission also recommended that the city council approve the "Metro2 @ Riverwalk" development. The project calls for the Sares-Regis Group to build "the first new single-family residential development in the Washington Neighborhood for decades," on a site bounded by 3rd, 4th, B and C streets.

Besides Camarillo, other commission members are Matthew Hargrove (chairperson), Bill Batts, Jim Piatt, Karen Jarvis, Martha Lewis and Jaime Canas.

Remembering Mary 'Hattie' Shorter Gordon

Note: Hattie Gordon was a friend of mine who passed away from a massive stroke five years ago this month. The following column is reprinted with the belief that no one really dies who is remembered.

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

I recently had to go to a doctor's appointment in downtown Sacramento and as I reluctantly sat down in the crowded waiting room to nervously await my turn to be poked and prodded, a razor-thin, very tired looking black lady who had to be in her 70s and was supporting herself with the aid of a cane shuffled over and sat down next to me. She had apparently just finished her examination and a nurse called to her, "Your transportation back home should be here any minute, Mrs. Gordon."

"Thank you," she said kindly to the nurse.

"You're all done, huh?" I asked her, wishing that I, too, had finished with my appointment.

"Yes," she answered with a warm smile.

"Is everything okay?"

She nodded her head and said, "I thought there might be a little something wrong with my heart again, but the doctor said it was probably just some indigestion. I do have diabetes, though, and I hope my ride gets here soon so I can go home and get something to eat."

Much to my surprise, the nurse suddenly called out my name and motioned that it was my turn to go back to the examination rooms. As I stood up, my thoughts quickly turned to the fun and games awaiting me, and away from my conversation with the nice elderly lady.

A good hour and a half later, I finally escaped from the clutches of my doctor and his sadistic assistants and was making my way out of the office when I noticed that the lady I had been talking to earlier was still sitting in her chair.

"Hasn't your ride got here yet?" I asked her.

"No," she answered, sadly shaking her head. "They had to go get someone sicker than me."

"Where do you live?"

"Over in West Sacramento."

"Really?" I said. "Well, it just so happens that I live in West Sacramento, too. You can ride along with me if you'd like."

With a devilish twinkle in her eye, she said, "I guess that would be okay -- if you don't think your wife will mind."

Mary "Hattie" Shorter Gordon turned out to be 78-years-old and she was still full of life and sharp as a tack. She was born in a little town called Eugula, Alabama (near Montgomery) during the first World War and later moved to West Virginia, where her father got work in the coal mines.

"People were different back then," Hattie explained to me during one of my visits after we had become friends. "They visited more and were so much nicer to each other. They helped one another. Nowadays, people just aren't as friendly as they used to be."

All was not easy, however, for a young black girl growing up in the deep south back in the 1920s and 1930s.

"But things have gotten a lot better over the years," Hattie said. "Back when I was young, if you took a package or something over to a white person's house, you always had to go to the back door. If you forgot and went to the front door, you were liable to get hit, and by white people you had known all your life. I remember when I was 14, my daddy sat me down and told me that although it wasn't right, colored people were treated differently than white people, and that there were things I shouldn't do and places I shouldn't go because I might get hurt. So, when I was young, I mostly just visited my friends and went to church. I've always loved going to church and it's been a very important part of my life. People in my family have been deacons, ministers, and missionaries, and my mother had the most beautiful voice in the choir."

I asked Hattie why she had moved all the way out to California.

"My father was out here working and he sent for all of us," she explained. "I was supposed to get married to this one man, but I decided to marry this other one instead. I was 17 when I got married, but I'm afraid he turned out to be one of those born liars, so I had to divorce him."

"Did you marry again?" I asked her.

"Yes, I did, and I was engaged a few times, too. I've got three children and seven grandchildren, and two of them grandchildren I raised up all by myself. But after awhile my second husband got to be quite a rascal, too, so out he went. We sure had some good fights, though. He'd say, 'Hattie, you're crazy', and I'd say, 'No, I'm the one with the good sense'." Her contagious smile turned to laughter and then she suddenly asked me what month I was born in.

"August," I answered.

"Which day in August?"

"The 18th."

She rolled her bright, always cheerful eyes, smiled even wider and said, "That makes you a Leo, you know, just like my second husband. Now Leo's are a lot of fun to talk to and be around and everything, but to tell you the truth, a woman sure doesn't want to marry one of them!"

I also remember asking Hattie if there was any secret to growing old with such grace and good humor, like she has.

"Oh, not really," she replied. "I've been very lucky. The Lord has blessed me with a wonderful life. I think the most important thing, though, is to always try real hard to be friendly and nice to everyone -- regardless."

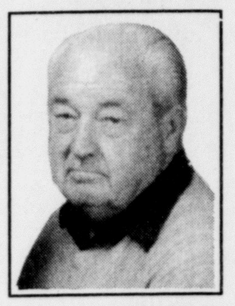
A celebration of Bill's life will he held on Sunday, July 22, at the West Sacramento VFW Hall on Soule Street between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m.. In lieu of flowers, please send donations to the charity of your choice.

Wendell Anderson

Wendell "Broadway Andy" Anderson was born on February 15, 1925 and died on July 11, 2001. He was preceded in death by his wife of 47 years, Betty. He was the father of John, Bill, Bob, Wendell and Linda, and the father-in-law of Brenda, Diane, Dorothy and Sharon. He also leaves behind nine grandchildren and one greatgrandchild.

Andy was a resident of Sacramento for over 70 years and a prominent car dealer for 50 years. In 1946 while running three car lots on Broadway simultaneously he became Vice President of the National Auto Dealers Association. He also had the last Hudson dealership in Sacramento, was founder and president of the Independent Automobile Dealers Association of California, and was the business manager of the Sacramento Auto Auction.

Wendell Anderson



Andy was well known for his cadillac convertibles in parades that carried such people as Governor Pat Brown to the local prom queens for high school homecoming games. As his children grew Andy was involved in their little league games and started all four of his sons into quarter midget racing that grew into sprint cars. He was on the board of directors of the California State Racing Association and the business manager of the

SPORTS

SPORTS INSIDER

By Richard Novoa

Are you ready for some football? The N.F.L. season is just around the corner as the 49ers and Raiders prepare to open camps this week at their Northern California training facilities. The Niners first day of practice will be Thursday, July 26th at UOP in Stockton while the Raiders begin this week on Friday, July 20th at the Napa Valley Marriott.

The 49ers, who are still struggling with salary cap issues, must decide if they want to pay quarterback Jeff Garcia his just dues or go with backup QB Rick Mirer ($477,000) or third stringer Tom Rattay. Garcia, 31, had a shaky start last season but turned the season around after the third game to throw for 4,278 yards and 31 touchdowns. Garcia earn $2.95 million in his first Pro Bowl season with the 49ers. The problem is the Niners are just $2.35 million under the cap and have yet to sign any of their eight draft pick! General manager Terry Donahue is also shopping for a veteran linebacker after the 49ers-released Ken Norton Jr. and Winfred Tubbs. The Niners will also be taking a close look at place kickers Jamie Rheem (Kansas State) and Jose Cortez (XFL) to replace Wade Richey, who signed with the Chargers for $6 million over 5 years.

The good news in camp is running back Garrison Hearst is looking good and is listing No. 1 on the depth chart.

It could be another long season for Niner fans but based on records from 2000, the 49ers have the 11th most difficult schedule in the NFL this season. The 49ers opponents last season were a combined 130-126 for a winning percentage of only .508. The 49ers will play 10 games against teams that were .500 or better, and seven games against teams that made the playoffs. Next week we'll review the Oakland Raiders season.

The Giants (48-45) are trailing Arizona by 6 ½ games has they head into a crucial three game weekend series with the division leading Diamondbacks starting on Friday night. The major league trading deadline is approaching on July 31st so don't be surprised to see the Giants make a move to improve their starting pitching or fix their problem at third base.

Speaking of trade deadlines the Oakland A's (48-44) are trying to cut down on their $33.3 million team salary and have been shopping MVP Jason Giambi and closer Jason Isringhausen. I think George Steinbrenner might find these two gentlemen a job in Yankees pinstripes. The A's chances of catching the division leading Mariners are pretty slim but they are only six games behind the Red Sox and Indians for the wild card spot.

The River Cats (44-52) are only 1 ½ games behind the division leading Las Vegas 51's (46-51) and tied for second with the Fresno Grizzlies. The Gatos are on the road this week playing in Omaha and Iowa. Can you believe the Cats lost 8-5 on Monday night to the Omaha Golden Spikes before a crowd of only 2,882! The River Cats return home Tuesday, July 24th (7:05 p.m.) to host the Memphis Redbirds. The Nashville Sounds will arrive on Saturday, July 28th (fireworks night) to close out the 8 game home stand.

Boxing this weekend at Feather Falls Casino on Sunday, July 22nd (3 p.m.) featuring a few of Sacramento's up and coming fighters Eric Regan, Michael Simms and Horaito Garcia in separate bouts. Speaking of up and coming fighters how about the battle of legends last Saturday in Denver featuring 39 year old Hector Camacho and 50 year old "No Mas" Roberto Duran. The card actually drew 6,000 fans that watched 89 years of boxing experience waltz around the boxing ring!

The Major League Soccer All-Star game featuring players from the U.S. National team and some of the best international players from around the MLS will be played on Saturday, July 28th at Spartan Stadium in San Jose.

Tickets are priced at $20 and are available at Pro-Venture Travel, 1420 Merkley Ave., suite 6 - (916) 372-9294. For more information call me at (916) 372-7332.

See ya next week!

INVITATION TO BID

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Director of Community Development, 1951 South River Road, West Sacramento, California until 10:00 a.m. local time on Tuesday, July 31, 2001, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read aloud for the:

2000-2001 ANNUAL STRIPING CONTRACT

The proposed work consists of the following:

Description of Work: The project involves removal of existing and replacement of new traffic stripes, pavement markers and pavement markings as directed by the Engineer throughout the City. Other associated work includes application of an asphalt-based seal on pavement area where existing traffic striping/markings are removed.

Completion of Work: All work shall be completed within forty-five (45) working days from the date designated in the Notice to Proceed.

Obtaining Contract Documents: Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the Director of Community Development, 1951 South River Road, West Sacramento, California. A copy of bid documents may be obtained at the office upon request and payment of $15.00 or may be mailed upon request and payment of $20.00. The amount of the payment is non-refundable.

Submission of Proposals: All proposals must be submitted not later than the time prescribed. The bidder is wholly responsible to see that his bid is submitted at the time and place designated for the opening of bids. Any bid received after the time and date specified shall not be considered. Any bid may be withdrawn prior to the scheduled time for opening bids.

Each bid must conform and be responsive to this notice and shall be made on the official proposal forms furnished with the Contract Documents.

Attention is directed to the provisions of the Business and Professions Code Section 7028.15 which makes it a misdemeanor for any person without a valid contractor's license (with specific exceptions) to submit a bid to act as a Contractor to a public agency.

Proposal Guarantee: Each proposal must be accompanied by cash, a cashier's check, certified check or bid bond, executed on the prescribed form, in an amount not less than ten (10) percent of the total bid price payable to the City of West Sacramento.

Bidders are hereby notified that in accordance with the provisions of Government Code Section 4590, securities may be substituted for any monies which the City may withhold pursuant to the terms of this Contract to ensure performance.

Construction License: The successful bidder must posses a current Class "A" General Engineering or a Class "C-32" Parking and Highway Improvement Contractor's License issued by the State of California.

Award: The award shall be made to the lowest responsible bidder whose proposal complies with the specified requirements. The award of Contract will be made by the Director of Community Development, and the Contractor shall execute the Contract within ten (10) days after he has received the Contract from the City.

The City reserves the right to waive any irregularity in the proposals. No bid may be withdrawn for a period of sixty (60) days after the opening of bids.

Rejection of Bids: The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Any bid not conforming to the intent and purpose of the Contract Documents may be rejected. The City reserves the right to make all awards in the best interest of the City.

Disqualification of Bidder: If there is a reason to believe that collusion exists among any bidders, none of the bids of the participants in such collusion will be considered and the City may likewise elect to reject all bids received.

Relief of Bidder: Attention is directed to the provisions of Public Contracts Code Section 5101 and following, concerning relief of bidders and in particular to the requirements therein that if the bidder claims a mistake was made in his bid, the bidder shall give the City written notice, within five (5) days after the opening of bids of the alleged mistake, specifying in the notice, in detail, how the mistake occurred.

Wage Rates: Bidders are hereby notified that the California Director of Industrial Relations has determined the general prevailing rate of wages for each craft, classification, or type of worker needed to execute the work.

It shall be mandatory for the Contractor and any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the said specified rates to laborers and workmen employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Bonds: The successful bidder will be required to furnish a payment bond in an amount equal to one hundred (100) percent of the Contract price, and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to one hundred (100) percent of the Contract price.

Here's how to make Swanson Chicken Pasta Salad...

Swanson® Chicken Pasta Salad
Prep Time: 20 min. Chill Time: 2 hrs.

1 can (14½ oz.) Swanson® Chicken Broth (1¾ cups)
½ cup reduced-calorie mayonnaise
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 tsp. dried dill weed or dried basil leaves, crushed
3 cups cooked corkscrew pasta
1 cup cherry tomatoes cut in half
1 cup peas, cooked
½ cup sliced mushrooms
1 small red onion, chopped
2 cups cubed cooked chicken
Lettuce leaves

MIX broth, mayonnaise, cheese and dill weed.

TOSS pasta, tomatoes, peas, mushrooms, onion, chicken and broth mixture until evenly coated. Cover and refrigerate at least 2 hrs., stirring occasionally. Serve on lettuce. Serves 4.

CITY OF WEST SACRAMENTO
DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT
ENGINEERING DIVISION
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
FEDERAL AID PROJECT NUMBER: RPL-5447 (016)
STATE NUMBER: 03-YOL-0-WSAC
CITY WORK ORDER NUMBER: 1720

Sealed proposals for the work shown on the plans entitled:

PORT CENTER AREA PAVEMENT REHABILITATION PROJECT

will be received at the Department of Community Development, 1951 South River Road, West Sacramento, California 95691, until 2:00 p.m. on Tuesday, August 7, 2001 at which time they will be publicly opened and read in the Conference Room at said address.

General Work Description: The work generally consists of the rehabilitation of the paved roadway by removing existing street section and reconstructing with new structural section as shown on the plans. The work shall also include the removal and replacement of defective curb and gutter and the installation of new storm drain inlet for the elimination of drainage problems.

In addition, the work shall include the replacement of any pavement, sidewalk, curb and gutter or public and private improvements removed or damaged as a consequence of the execution of this Contract, as well as all necessary traffic control.

This Contract has a completion time of Fifty (50) Working Days.

This project has a goal of 10 percent Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) participation.

No pre-bid meeting is scheduled for this project.

At the time this Contract is awarded, the Contractor shall possess a Class A General Engineering Contractor's License issued by the State of California.

This Contract is subject to State contract nondiscrimination and compliance requirements pursuant to Government Code, Section 12990.

Plans and specifications, and proposal forms for bidding this project can only be obtained at the office of the Director of Community Development of the CITY OF WEST SACRAMENTO, located at 1951 South River Road, West Sacramento, California 95691 (telephone 916-373-5854). A non-refundable payment of $25.00 for each set is required if picked up, and $35.00 if mailed.

No bid will be accepted unless it is made on the Proposal Form provided in these Special Provisions.

Bids are required for the entire work described herein.

Each proposal must be accompanied by cash, a cashier's check, certified check or bid bond, executed on the prescribed form, in an amount not less than ten (10) percent of the total bid price payable to the City of West Sacramento. Such guarantee will be forfeited should the bidder to whom the contract is awarded fail to enter into the contract.

Bidders are hereby notified that in accordance with the provisions of Government Code Section 4590, securities may be substituted for any monies which the City may withhold pursuant to the terms of this Contract to ensure performance. Such securities, if deposited by the owner, whose decision on valuation of the securities shall be final. Securities eligible for investment under this provision shall be limited to those listed in Section 22300 of the Public Contract Code and section 16430 of the Government Code.

The Department of Community Development hereby notifies all bidders that it will affirmatively insure that in any contract entered into pursuant to the advertisement, disadvantaged business enterprises will be afforded full opportunity to submit bids in response to this invitation and will not be discriminated against on the grounds of race, color, or national origin in consideration for an award.

Pursuant to Section 1773 of the Labor Code, the general prevailing rate of wages in the City in which the work is done has been determined by the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations. For bidding purposes these wage rate publications may be examined at the offices described above where project plans, Special Provisions, and proposal forms may be obtained. Future effective wage rates which have been predetermined and are on file with the Department of Industrial Relations are referenced but not printed in said publication.

Minimum wage rates for this project as predetermined by the Secretary of Labor are set forth in the Special Provisions. If there is a difference between the minimum wage rates predetermined by the Secretary of Labor and the prevailing wage rates determined by the Department of Industrial Relations for similar classifications of labor, the Contractor and his subcontractors shall pay not less than the higher wage rate. The Community Development Department will not accept lower State wage rates not specifically included in the Federal wage determinations. This includes "helper" (or other classifications based on hours of experience) or any other classification not appearing in the Federal wage determinations. Where Federal wage determinations do not contain the State wage rate determination otherwise available for use by the Contractor and subcontractors, the Contractor and subcontractors shall pay not less than the Federal minimum wage rate which most closely approximates the duties of the employees in question.

Attention is directed to the provisions of Public Contracts Code Section 5101 and following, concerning relief of bidders and in particular to the requirements therein that if the bidder claims a mistake was made in his bid, the bidder shall give the City written notice, within five (5) calendar days after the opening of bids of the alleged mistake, specifying in the notice, in detail, how the mistake occurred.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and to determine which proposal is, in its judgment, the lowest responsive bid of a responsible bidder and which proposal should be accepted in the best interests of the City.

Helping Americans Get The Job Done

(NAPS)—A national Urban League training program has helped people who want to work help themselves.

For example, Philip Mezza of Los Angeles, California, went from being unemployed and struggling to survive, to earning a professional's salary—with plans to return to school and buy a house.

Mezza was helped by Opportunity Works!—one of the Urban League's many workforce development programs. Since January, 2000, the program has trained unemployed and underemployed adults, former welfare recipients and high school seniors to work in jobs that can improve the quality of their lives.

Opportunity Works! training programs are tailored to meet the needs of the communities they serve, with special notice of the job industries in that area. The initiative has helped people who were qualified only for minimum wage jobs work towards full-fledged careers.

The program has trained financial service representatives, automotive technicians, high-tech cable and telephone installation experts and construction workers —and has a job placement rate of 70 to 90 percent. Many people who earned $5.50 an hour before the program, started at $8.50 an hour after—some eventually earned as much as $20 an hour.

A work-force training program may help level the economic playing field in America.

"Our goal," says Zoraya Lee-Hamlin, who oversees the League's economic self-sufficiency unit, "is to economically empower underprivileged groups, particularly African-Americans, by bridging the gaps between high- and low-wage jobs and career development."

Currently underway in eight cities and planned for 40 more, Opportunity Works! programs range from the highly-skilled Los Angeles Urban League's training in automotive repair, to training at the Financial Services Academy in economically hard hit, Roxbury, Massachusetts. Denver's Project Connect nurtures careers in telephone installation. And Minneapolis' Hollman Project offers training in building trades.

In addition to actual hard skills training—which can range from 12 to 19 weeks—the programs give clients tips on how to dress, fill out applications and respond to interview questions.

To be eligible for most of the programs, applicants must be at least 18 years old, hold a high school diploma or GED, and be drug and alcohol free.

Most important, program directors say, is that participants display a desire to improve their lives.

In addition to helping individuals, Opportunity Works! offers civic-minded companies the chance to partner with the League, service low-income communities and create employee diversity.

In Denver, Qwest Communications provides the majority of funding for Project Connect. "Qwest and the Urban League are committed to diversifying a field (high-tech installation) that has traditionally been closed to our community," says Bonnie Freeman of the Urban League of Metropolitan Denver.

Project Connect has graduated 129 students. It's estimated the graduates have had a $2.5-million impact on the Denver economy.

Opportunity Works! is funded by a $1.5 million grant from The Prudential Foundation, in addition to supplementary grants from various local partners. Through the Urban League's numerous programs, approximately 2 million individuals are served annually.

OPINION

News-Ledger Editorial:

Missing the Milky Way

Sometimes an idea that looks pretty logical can actually be pretty stupid. Sometimes an idea that looks pretty crazy can make a lot of sense.

The "Dark Sky" movement falls into the second category. There is an "International Dark Sky Alliance" making headway across the U.S., pushing the idea that we shouldn't fill our urban night skies with wasted, reflected light. By doing so, they argue, we obscure the stars, reducing the number of our galaxy's objects we can gaze upon. In an urban area like this one, we are sadly accustomed at night to looking up and seeing very little. It takes a trip to the mountains or some rural area to remind us that the sky has stuff in it.

The "dark sky" group proposes that local governments try to limit the amount of inefficient fixtures that send light upward, where it's not needed. Better-designed streetlights, parking lot lights and other lights can keep light where it's wanted – down on the ground – and send a lot less into our atmosphere.

This concept entered our own region with all the earmarks of a "loopy" idea, including the fact that it was being championed by one of the more "colorful" city council members in the "People's Republic of Davis." So far it hasn't really caught on elsewhere in the region, including West Sacramento. No one important dares to promote it.

But if you think about it, the idea isn't really loopy. Doesn't a nighttime sky full of stars have a value to us? Isn't a view of the stars at night important, in the same "real estate value" sense that a view of a lake is important? Isn't it a bit sad that a lot of kids who grow up in West Sacramento have never seen the Milky Way? Can this have no effect on their ability to wonder about the universe and their place in it?

The "dark sky" movement is gaining ground in a number of places less liberal and progressive than Davis. San Diego, for instance, is looking at street light design and other measures.

It merits a serious look here, too. The Sacramento area is booming with development, and a little planning region-wide can improve the beauty of its nights.

Surely the stars are worth something.

Sewage dispute: why Yolo County did what it did

From Tom Stallard
Yolo County Supervisor

The News-Ledger editorial of July 11 which discusses the city/county dispute over Regional Sanitation governance concludes by inviting comment as to "why it happened in the first place." I will try to provide some additional perspective.

Of course, everyone was on notice that West Sacramento was in negotiations with Regional Sanitation to join the district. This was an intelligent move that will save citizens millions of dollars and make new development less costly, thereby encouraging the new development that we all want to see.

What was never discussed with county officials was the West Sacramento proposed legislation that would not simply add a West Sacramento representative, but would eliminate a designated place for a Yolo County representative. This prospective spot for Yolo County was part of the original legislation creating the Regional Sanitation District.

By the time we learned about the legislation, we were at the 11th hour, struggling to identify in a compressed time frame, potential county concerns as well as a strategy for dealing with the situation.

All of us at the county accept and acknowledge that this situation arose through inadvertence and not intention. Especially appreciated are the apologies which have come from some members of the council. However, we are trying to look long-term just as was done by those who drafted the original legislation creating Regional Sanitation.

It took the Board of Supervisors three motions after more than an hour of discussion to come up with our 3-2 vote. I believe it would have been 4-1 if we had approved the second motion, which included requiring California Environmental Quality Act compliance which the legislation in its current state will supercede. Some of us, however, did not want to add this burden to the project.

It's true that West Sacramento was not incorporated when Regional Sanitation was created. But there's no reason to think that further expansion of coverage is not possible and may even be desirable. Furthermore, ratepayer concerns are not the only issues that need to be addressed.

The Board's "compromise position" of joint appointment was not intended in any way to diminish West Sacramento's involvement in the governance of Regional Sanitation. On the contrary, it was our hope that the city's representative would carry Yolo County's concerns as well.

A little math should convince anyone that the successful representative needs six votes out of ten to be appointed. This could be accomplished by all five council members plus one supervisor. After redistricting, every vote in West Sacramento will be in the First Supervisorial District. It's a "no brainer" to know what the First District Supervisor is going to do.

Lacking adequate time to really explore options,

Please see STALLARD, page 9

Letters to the Editor

Great job!

I would like to congratulate and thank our city council members for the great fireworks display on the fourth of July eve.

I would also like to thank the city council members for the Harmony on the River series at River Walk Park. It would be nice, though, if there were some form of closer parking for our folks with disabilities at River Walk.

You guys are doing a great job. Thanks again.

You forgot one

In printing my letter to the editor last week you left out one very important business, Professional Food Systems. They donated all the meat for our event. They are very supportive of Clarksburg Elementary and they have donated meat to other events we have held in the past, too. Thanks.

Sewage plan

Letting Sacramento run a sewer line from Natomas across the Sacramento River, down unincorporated Yolo County, through West Sacramento, back across the river and finally to the Elk Grove sewage treatment plant contains at least two major advantages: For Sacramento, they would not have to tear up their streets and so forth while West Sacramento would avoid having to build a new and larger sewage treatment plant.

But the deal between West Sac, Sac City and Sac County, and other cities in Sac County has hit a snag: Yolo County was not offered a seat on the governing board.

One quick Rx would be to determine the Yolo County area directly affected and consider West Sac expanding its borders accordingly; hence, no need then for a Yolo County seat. While we're at it, if we need a further incentive for Yolo County, how about suggesting that Sac Regional Transit drop its opposition and financial penalty YoloBus now pays for the privilege of dropping off and picking up YoloBus passengers at Sac Int'l Airport.

And sooner or later, it will happen: To alleviate the traffic gridlock on I-5 next to Sac River, CalTrans will insist changing I-5 to give passers-through a less congested alternative and that also will be through West Sac. But any such plan should also include the right connections to reduce travel time and vehicle pollution, including another bridge across the Sac River from West Sac's Southport area and appropriate on-ramps and off-ramps to help assure the least use of fuel and time. (That also helps contribute to cleaner air, with or without using pollution reduction credits, which Sac RT inherited when they replaced many diesel buses with natural gas buses.)

AMENDED NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE
PB01-158

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of PATRICK OWEN IMMOOS, AKA Patrick Immoos, Pat Immoos, and Patrick O. Immoos.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by ANITA IMMOOS in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Anita Immoos be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on July 30, at 8:30 a.m., in Dept. 5, at 725 Court St., Woodland, CA 95695.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

(NAPS)—Nothing adds a more inviting feeling to your home than the aroma of banana bread baking in your oven. This much-loved aroma is known for conjuring up nostalgic images of family, happiness and love.

In fact, the only thing more tantalizing than the aroma is the irresistible taste of a warm slice of banana bread.

For a new twist on this classic recipe, add Post Selects Banana Nut Crunch cereal to the banana bread batter. In addition to enhancing the banana flavor, the cereal adds both texture and a creative touch to the delicious loaf.

Whether prepared for brunch, snacks, or dessert, Double Banana Bread is a great way to show family and friends that you care.

Double Banana Bread

Prep: 10 minutes
Bake: 65 minutes plus cooling

1½ cups flour
½ cup sugar
2 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. baking soda
½ tsp. salt
2 eggs
1½ cups mashed ripe bananas (2 to 3 bananas)
¼ cup oil
¼ cup water
1½ cups Post Selects Banana Nut Crunch Cereal
1 cup chopped walnuts (optional)

HEAT oven to 350°F.

MIX flour, sugar, baking powder, baking soda and salt in large bowl. Beat eggs in small bowl; stir in bananas, oil and water. Add to flour mixture; stir just until moistened. (Batter will be lumpy.) Stir in cereal and walnuts. Pour into greased 9x5-inch loaf pan.

BAKE 55 to 65 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pan. Cool completely on wire rack. Makes 18 (½-inch) slices.

Note: For easier slicing, wrap bread and store overnight.

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Police Log

(Date unspecified)
2:10 a.m.

A Riverpoint Dr. convenience store reported a male suspect had fled with an 18-pack of beer, leaving in a car. A police officer fell in behind the suspect vehicle, which was confirmed as stolen. The car pulled over near Delaware Ave. and Regent, and three suspects fled on foot. Police set up a perimeter and a K-9 unit searched (outside) from house to house. No suspects were located. The stolen car was recovered.

5:38 p.m.

A Sacramento Ave. woman found some bones while digging in her yard. They appeared to be from a small animal, but were booked into police custody.

July 12

A 20-year old man was arrested for entering a Taber St. home through an open window, assaulting a 14-year old girl with his hands and a knife, and dragging her from one room to another, causing visible injury. The man was contacted later at his workplace and arrested. He was reported to be an ex-boyfriend.

July 13, 7:25 p.m.

An officer saw two people in a sport utility vehicle on West Capitol Ave. Do a U-turn, then pull into a nightclub parking lot. The two fled on foot into the rear of the establishment and out the front door. One was located nearby and was determined to have been an unlicensed driver. The 40-year old man was arrested.

July 15, 6:10 a.m.

An officer stopped a 37-year old Sacramento man on West Capitol because he resembled a parolee at large. The man was confirmed as a different parolee who was wanted, and was arrested.

July 15, 10:23 p.m.

A Maple St. man was arrested for sexual battery, after a woman said he reached under dress and fondled her.

July 15, 10:42 p.m.

An officer stopped a 45-year old woman driving on Carrie St. for a vehicle code violation. She had a suspended license, and her car was towed because of it. When the car was searched for inventory, morphine and methamphetamines were found in it.

July 15, 11:13 p.m.

A woman reported her husband had shot himself in their bathroom. Police found him dead of a gunshot wound to the head. Detectives and police chaplains also responded.

July 15, 11:30 p.m.

Security guards at a West Capitol nightclub reported that a man brandished a gun at them, and that the man had been involved in several other incidents there in the past two weeks.

AGENDAS: Items under consideration by local government

The West Sacramento City Council will meet tonight at 7 p.m. in public session at 1350 Halyard Dr.

Agenda items include:

A resolution amending the general plan from community commercial to low density residential for 41 more homes at Pheasant Hollow; resolution authorizing collection of delinquent charges and penalties for city utilities through the Yolo tax roll; vacating part of right-of-way along 1300 South River Rd.; vacating part of right-of-way along Linden Rd. near South River; approval of parcel map for Marshall Rd. at Allan Ave.; agreement with CalTrans for US 50/Harbor Blvd. improvements; emergency sewer repairs; subdivision agreement for Bridgeway Island;

Crossing agreement with Yolo Shortline at Newport Estates; acceptance of wastewater treatment plant improvements; allocation of $10,000 for electrical service at Grand Staircase at River Walk; proclamation of Aug. 7 as "National Night Out," participation in SACOG Regional GIS Project; consideration of traffic impact fee study; Southport Design Guidelines; expansion of water plan; and other items.

The West Sacramento Economic Development Advisory Commission will meet at 6 p.m. on Wed., July 25, at 1350 Halyard Dr. Agenda items have not yet been released.

The West Sacramento Planning Commission will meet at 6 p.m. at 1350 Halyard Dr.

Agenda items include an extension of the temporary certificate of occupancy for Raley Field; a parcel map for 4555 Jefferson Blvd.; consideration of a General Plan amendment and other actions to allow an apartment complex at Sacramento Ave. & Douglas St.; and a tentative map for Seaway International Trade Center at the Port of Sacramento.

that is what the Board came up with. There are no hidden motives or attempts to shift control to the supervisors representing other cities. Fortunately, enough goodwill exists, in my view, between a majority of both bodies to forge a resolution that all will be able to live with.

A compromise may involve unrelated matters but will nonetheless restore the foundation of mutual respect and consideration that has historically characterized the relationship of these two entities. We are so interdependent that a peaceful resolution of the Regional Sanitation representation issue is essential.

Time Changes * New Stops * New Route * More Options!
Changes to West Sacramento Yolobus service effective Sunday, July 29

As a result of recent public hearings, rider requests and changing traffic patterns, several changes will be made to Yolobus service in West Sacramento, effective Sunday, July 29th. Changes are designed to improve service, on-time efficiency, and to increase capacity.

The following schedules serve West Sacramento. These schedules will also be available shortly on the buses as well as the Yolobus web page. They are designed to improve service in West Sacramento, while minimizing any inconveniences. Thank you for choosing Yolobus!
